

A 13-year-old girl with migraine depicts photophobia (sunglasses) and pounding pain (hammer).

A 12-year-old girl sees spots before her migraine.

A 10-year-old boy with migraine depicts pain as a drum beating inside his head.

A 10-year-old boy draws his “bad” (large hammer) and “really bad” (jackhammer) headaches.